Presidents Message

The results are in and the nominating committee has done a great job of selecting a slate of officers for next year. Some new people and some veterans will make a balanced group.

For too long of time the club has been governed by the same people and seems just to have been marking time waiting for an upsurge in membership to provide some new thinking. Plus we who have kept things going can look forward to making a different kind of contribution.

I have been a member for what seems like a long time and have many memories and boxes of materials that I want to go through and try to write a history of the Mile High Radio Club. Most or maybe all of those who started the club are gone but I knew most of them and admired them.

We'll see what I can do.

Vi Hallacy K6VBH
President

RACES Report – Mountain District

RACES AND MHRC MEMBERS --- WHERE ARE YOU?

Getting started with some message handling practice after our weekly roll call seemed like a good idea. Plus it's a way to get more local HAM's on the air and prepared for a real event.

It seems like the interest in just having a call sign is stronger than having the ability to communicate. I sure all of you do know that just talking on the air is not the same as properly getting messages transmitted or received accurately. The plan is to have several messages transmitted and read back for accuracy after weekly roll call should be an easy way break in to this activity.

What you can do. Using the ICS form 213 can be downloaded from www.ics213.com the web site has both the form and usage instructions. Without the form just use plain paper. Prepare a short message (7 to 15 words – with or without numbers) Create a message form title and include both from and to points of contact.

One person will be asked to be the “receiver”. Everyone receiving the message will also have a chance to do the read back. When you read your message either the first time or back, allow “writing time” and wait for the “copy – go” from the receiver before continuing. If there are enough messages – roll call time can be extended or extra messages will be carried over to our next roll call.

Your suggestions are welcome.

COMMUNICATION – ONE REAL REASON TO HAVE YOUR AMATEUR RADIO LICENSE.

American Legion Radio Club wants you

With 700,000 federally licensed amateur radio operators, or “hams,” in America, the nation's largest veterans service organization, The American Legion, has formed The American Legion Amateur Radio Club to provide a forum for members of The American Legion family who today are engaged in a hobby that provides emergency communications “when all else fails.”

“The beauty of amateur radio is that it attracts folks of all career interests, many of them military veterans,” said Robert L. Morrill, chairman of the national public relations commission. “Hams provide backup communications to Emergency Management Agency (EMA) offices across the country when all else fails and have done so with distinction in virtually every major disaster when cell towers and commercial communications have been knocked out after earthquakes, hurricanes, tornadoes, and man-made disasters.”

In January, 2005, The American Legion signed a statement of affiliation with the Department of Homeland Security to support emergency disaster preparedness. Subsequently, a booklet was made available to posts, The American Legion Guide to Post Disaster Preparedness and Response. Amateur radio support was an integral entity.

“While some people may think that ham radio is an old technology, the simple truth is that hams were working with digital transmissions long before folks had home computers. They were transmitting emergency calls from their cars long before anyone had a mobile phone to do the same,” Morrill said.

“Ham radio is alive and growing in America and that there are thousands of veterans who are dedicated ham radio operators,” Foster said.

“And a lot of them are not yet carrying American Legion membership cards.”

Membership in the club is free to members of The American Legion Family with current federal amateur radio licenses. Because the club has just been authorized, Morrill invites licensed Legion Family hams to join now but to be patient; it will take time to solicit equipment donations and get a national club station assembled and on the air. Licensed Legionnaires, members of The American Legion Auxiliary, members of the Sons of The American Legion and Legion Riders can join by sending their full name, call sign, address and Legion/Auxiliary/SAL membership number to k9tal@legion.org. An attractive membership card will be mailed.

The American Legion Amateur Radio Club is looking for HF and dual-band VHF/UHF transceivers and associated gear donations in order to set up a headquarters station and begin national radio nets. If you have radio gear you are willing to donate, please email us at k9tal@legion.org.
